

When healings do not work on someone, Charismatics claim it is because the person did not have enough faith.